

Depending on the amount of natural gas you use, you may have a choice in natural gas providers*.

And that choice can save your business thousands of dollars each year in energy costs.

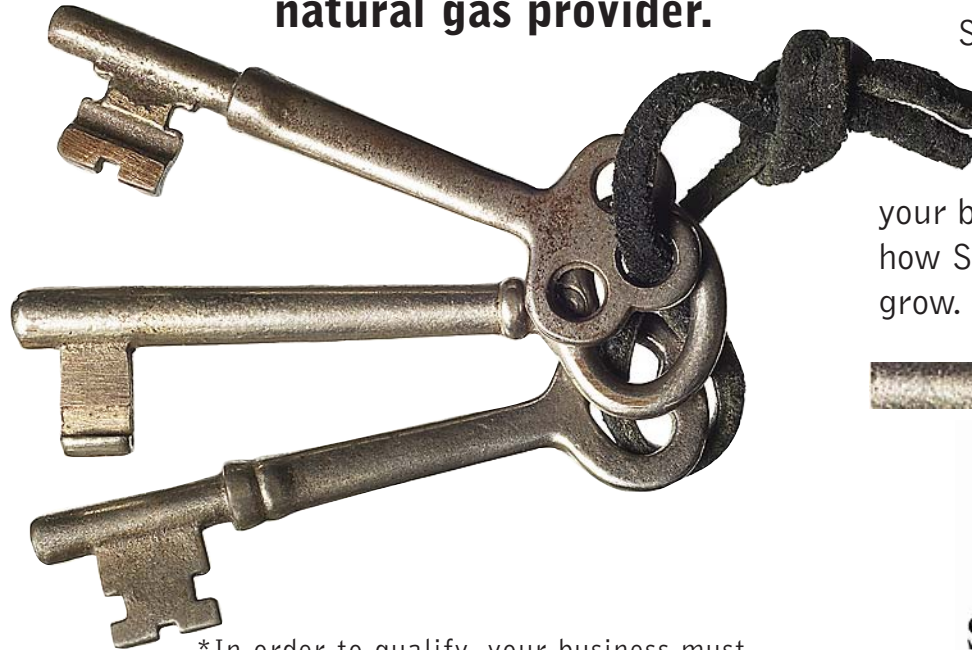

Medium and large commercial and industrial gas customers can save thousands of dollars each year by purchasing their natural gas on the open market rather than at government-regulated prices.

And if you have a choice in natural gas service providers, why not choose one that can save you money and give you, the customer, membership in the company?

Why not choose a natural gas provider that offers the best energy solutions for your organization and lets you have a voice in the way the natural gas company is run?

Dozens of natural gas companies can provide you with the energy services your business requires. . .

But Sierra Southwest Cooperative Services, Inc., is the only cooperatively owned natural gas provider.

*In order to qualify, your business must use a minimum amount of gas through a single meter each year. For SoCal customers, it's 25,000 mmbtu; for PG&E, it's 25,000 mmbtu, for Southwest Gas, it's 18,000 mmbtu, for UES, it's 12,000 mmbtu.

Since we're a co-op – owned by our customers – we listen and go the extra mile to ensure you have the natural gas solutions your business needs to thrive.

Sierra will secure competitive pricing and provide outstanding, hands-on customer support. That's because we're owned by you, our customer.

Sierra offers a variety of energy services to meet your needs. Call one of our service representatives to find out if your business qualifies and to find out how Sierra can help your business grow.
